Planning Our New Parish House: What Are the Next Steps?

TRINITY
EPISCOPAL CHURCH
WELCOME

Activity continues on plans for the new Parish House facility. Our architects are constructing models and drawings that will be available for viewing over the next several weeks. We will be soliciting your comments and feedback as the evolution continues toward a completed design.

By September, we will have schematic diagrams defining the interior and exterior. These will give a detailed vision of our new facility and construction costs. In the autumn, assisted by a professional fundraising firm, we will survey the congregation to determine if there is sufficient financial support to proceed. The decision to begin a formal capital campaign will be made by the end of 2010.

Fundraising would begin in early 2011. Once the Vestry is comfortable that the targeted amount can be reached, we can prepare construction drawings and obtain permits. Then the project will be put out for bid, a general contractor will be selected, contracts negotiated – and then the real work begins!

The first phase will renovate River Street to provide temporary church offices. Then the existing parish house will be removed, new foundations poured, and walls raised. After 18-24 months of mud and inconvenience, we will dedicate a beautiful new facility to be shared and used by all to help us further God's mission in the community and the world.

FROM THE RECTOR

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

Over the past couple of years we have been blessed with many new individuals and families who have decided to make Trinity their church home. We see this growth especially in our Church School, Nursery and in the vitality that new people bring to our parish life. It has been thrilling to see how this has been an ongoing work of the Spirit of God transforming us as a congregation in a very positive way. I also have been very encouraged by the way long-time members of Trinity have responded with generosity and heartfelt welcome to these new members.

One of the realities we are beginning to face is the limitation of our existing space. By now you should have received a letter from the Wardens and me explaining the decision of the Vestry to take the next steps toward the construction of a new Parish House facility. It is greatly needed. Our existing Parish Hall is too small for some Sunday morning Coffee Hours, and grossly inadequate to provide appropriate hospitality after large funerals. We lack meeting space - I met with a group in the Chapel a couple of Sundays ago because all meeting space was in use. Our current Parish House where the Parish Hall and offices are located is very energy inefficient and the offices are poorly laid out. The two bathrooms of the main hallway are insufficient on Sunday mornings, and do not begin to meet the needs of larger gatherings. And because of the way the hallways and entries are laid out, it is very confusing to visitors or newcomers to find their way. Our facilities are holding us back.

I shared these thoughts with a parishioner who replied with her hopes for our parish. What she states is really a vision of what we can be.

"I hope that an undertaking of this sort will bring people together for a common purpose, to build a structure to be shared and used by all to help us further God's mission in the community and the world. I hope the staff will be supported in your work by office facilities that do not hinder their progress, but actually enhance it. I hope we will be in a better position to have outside groups come in to use the facilities. I hope people with physical limitations will have an easier time of it – can you imagine making some of the required turns in your wheelchair to navigate our halls, doors, or offices? I hope the little kids get their own restrooms, and that the choir and hall restrooms won't be so crowded. I hope we can be more gracious hosts for both parish events and events to which we invite others. I hope we can have a parlor for families to use before weddings, baptisms, and funerals."

What a wonderful vision of what a new Parish House could mean for us and for those with whom we share our space.

Very soon we will be able to see models of the present and possible future facilities. I hope you will enter into this phase of our planning with enthusiasm and a willingness to share your ideas. I pray that we all might get a sense of the hoped-for goodness that will come from this.

We are embarking on a very exciting time in the life of Trinity Church. God has greatly blessed us. May we be faithful as we respond to the challenges God has placed before us.

Yours in Christ, Tony

TRINITY REMINDERS

New Altar Guild Leadership

We are very blessed by a group of people who faithfully prepare our church for worship every week. It is often a thankless task and only noticed when something goes wrong. But what they do is of immense value to all of us, and is especially helpful for those of us who serve at the altars of our parish. The Altar Guild helps us worship “in the beauty of holiness” every Sunday morning. For that we are very thankful.

We and the Altar Guild have been very blessed with the superb leadership of Susie Buttrick over the past year. We were having a difficult time finding a chair last year, but Susie stepped into the gap agreeing to serve for one year. She has done a wonderful job during that period. By the end of her tenure Susie will actually have served a bit more than a year, typical of her generosity.

I’m very pleased to announce that April Prewitt will be assuming the leadership of the Altar Guild upon her return from Ireland with the J2A Pilgrims in July. April is taking on this leadership role after extended service with the Journey to Adulthood youth program which she was instrumental in starting at Trinity. April is a very skilled and sensitive leader, and has a great respect for the work of the Altar Guild.

I hope you will thank Susie for her service and welcome April into this new leadership role. ~ Tony

Prayers of the People

Just a reminder that people remain on the list for three months only, unless you specifically request they be on for longer. If you want someone to be added to the list, or wish to extend your prayer request, please call Anne in the office (978-369-3715).

Stewardship Minutes

A new series of announcements now happen during the 10 am service. Each week a different member of the parish briefly describes an activity he or she is involved in, what makes that activity meaningful, and how the money you contribute to Trinity supports that activity. These announcements will give you a sense of the many ministries people participate in here and how your pledge dollars support them.

Summer Worship Schedule: 8 & 10 a.m.

You have all been very patient as we have experimented with an alternative summer worship schedule, going to one service for two months each the past two summers. I greatly appreciate your willingness to experiment with this schedule to see if it might work for us.

After a time of prayer and consultation with a number of people I have decided that a single service in the summer is not best for our parish. We conducted a survey to determine peoples' thoughts about the single-service schedule. The results were nearly evenly divided, for and against. But in speaking with people on both sides of this question I have found that those who are opposed to a single service have much deeper feelings about that than those who prefer the single service.

Therefore, we will not be changing the worship schedule for this or future summers. This reminds me of the old adage, "if it ain't broke, don't fix it!"

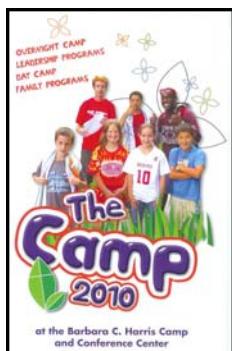

Thank you all for your patience through this experiment. I know not everyone will be happy with this decision, but I truly believe maintaining the regular two-service schedule through the summer is best for the parish overall. ~ Tony

FROM THE ASSOCIATE

Creeping Summer

As the weather gets nicer, my mind drifts to summer, when things get a bit slower and more relaxed around the Church. During the program year Church School continues its important work Sunday by Sunday; summer, however, has traditionally been a time away for many families, partly because of summer travel, and partly because Church School stops. (One child recently was heard to express surprise that Church even happened in the summer!) ASC (Adults Supporting Children) is considering how Trinity might offer periodic Church School Sundays during the summer. If you have thoughts about this, please share them with me or with Carolyn Coffin, chair of ASC. Professional childcare for very young children, with parent volunteers, continues during the summer under the watchful eye of Emily Hansen, from 9am to Noon.

We also have the opportunity to send our children to the Barbara C. Harris Camp and Conference Center, which has a wonderful summer program. I plan to be there as a chaplain the week of August 1 through 7 and would love to welcome children from Trinity. For more information please see me, or log on to www.bchcenter.org. As always, please let Carolyn or me know of questions and concerns you may have.

Faithfully, Nick Morris-Kliment
Associate Rector/Interim Church School Director

P.S. Church school teachers have begun to sort through items in their rooms and unearth treasures from bygone days. Among them is a miniature altar complete with triptych, pulpit, lectern, candelabra, pulpit Bible, and hangings. Does anyone know its provenance?

Rite 13: Pilgrims

The Pilgrims continue to prepare for their pilgrimage to Ireland. By the time you receive this, they will be on their way to the Cathedral of St. John the Divine for a Nightwatch overnight program, a kind of a practice pilgrimage. On Sunday May 23rd, they will sponsor their 2nd Annual Carwash at Crosby's Market. Bring your dirty car...and bring a friend's car, too!

Confirmation

The Confirmation Class spent the night at the Barbara C. Harris Camp and Conference Center for a pre-Confirmation retreat that featured Bible study, spiritual practices, worship, games, and a visit from Bp Tom. Below are some pictures from that Retreat. These young people from Trinity will be confirmed by Bp. Cederholm at the Deanery Confirmation, to be held at Trinity on Saturday, May 15th at 10:00 am. Adults from Trinity will also be received. Come support these persons in their life of faith. For more information, speak to Nick, April Prewitt, or Walter Birge.

MAY ADULT FORUMS

Sundays at 9:00 am in the Parish Hall

Professional childcare starting at 9:00 am

May 2: Exploring Faith Through Creative Arts
A Mini Workshop: The Rev. Amy Bruch

When was the last time you made something with your hands just for fun? When you pray, do you ever find yourself repeating a word or phrase in an effort to focus your thoughts? learn how Amy answers these questions and more in the practice of her ministry of liturgical arts. Based at Norwood UCC, Amy travels to Boston area churches offering on-site classes in the practice and exploration of faith through a variety of creative arts classes including clay, paper, fabric and other mediums. During this session everyone will create a Bible bookmark from beautifully printed papers for your own use or to give as a gift. No experience necessary... just bring your God given gift of creativity and a willingness to explore it!

May 9: Life Together: The Diocese of Massachusetts Young Adult Intern Program

Jason Long is the associate director of Life Together, a vibrant young adult program in the Diocese. Raised in an evangelical Protestant tradition in Denver, Jason came to Boston College and connected with the Episcopal Church. He did a field placement at The Crossing, the emerging congregation at the Cathedral. After spending a year as Relational Evangelist (he'll explain what that is) he became the Associate Director of the Life Together. He is passionate about the role the Episcopal Church can play both in reclaiming honest evangelism as a part of its heritage, and in reimagining what Church can be. Jason spoke movingly at the 2009 Diocesan Convention of his own faith journey.

May 16: The Latest Economic Outlook
Professor Cathy Mann, Brandeis University

Are we poised for a robust and broad-based global recovery, as suggested by Jamie Dimon, CEO of JPMorgan Chase? Or, is the economy likely to follow modest growth, as suggested by Fed Chairman Ben Bernanke? Or could the situation turn worse, as suggested by the NFIB small-business survey? The gap in economic performance and outlook between Wall St and Main St has never been worse. Will Wall St. pull up Main St or just suck the last breath out? Cathy is a regular commentator on NPR and other news outlets on economic affairs.

May 23: The work of Common Art
Art by Boston's poor and homeless

Mary Jane Eaton, M.Div, Program Director. During the month of May, the Trinity Arts Council has been exhibiting the work of common art, a program of Ecclesia Ministries. Since 1999, common art has provided space, materials and caring support staff to homeless and low-income members to develop their artistic abilities. Ecclesia Ministries, which embraces common cathedral, common cinema, and a host of other programs and ministries with the homeless, has been providing spiritual community to homeless people since 1994. Proceeds from the sale of these works supports both the artists and the ministry. For more information visit www.ecclesia-ministries.org.

May 30: A Journey Not a Destination: Theological and Psychological Perspectives on the Life of Faith

Professor McDargh has been a member of the theological faculty of Boston College since completing his doctorate in the area of the psychology of religion at Harvard thirty years ago. An Episcopal lay person and member of the vestry of St. Paul's Newton Highlands, John teaches interdisciplinary courses that integrate developmental psychology and Christian spirituality. He is an Associate of the Society of St. John the Evangelist and has a practice of spiritual direction.

MUSIC NOTES

Ascension Thursday Service Thursday, May 13, 2010 at 7:30 pm

Five area Episcopal churches have been combining for a joint celebration of Ascension Thursday now for several years and this year's service will take place in Wayland at the Church of the Holy Spirit. The choirs combine and the music is festive to mark Jesus' Ascension. The theme is unity of spirit. Come join us!

Choral Evensong Sunday, June 6, 2010 at 5:00 pm

While our Sunday morning Liturgy is the Holy Eucharist, where the focus is on the community gathering as one around our Lord's Table, Traditional Choral Evensong is more a time of prayer and thanksgiving with a meditative feeling. There are lessons read in this service, but the focus is on giving thanks to God for our many blessings and just making that connection with our Creator in a spiritual, prayerful way. For those to whom music speaks in a special, powerful language of its own, the sung prayers of Choral Evensong draw us to the Almighty in a unique way. Many composers have written musical settings of various parts of this Liturgy over the years.

Our Youth Choir will sing music by Edward Bairstow, Harry Brama, and Ronald Arnatt in this ancient Rite. Come hear them sing this service of sung prayer in the Chapel as an end to their program year – let their singing draw you closer to God.

CARING CONNECTION

“My religion is kindness” (The Dalai Lama)

The development of a practice of “loving kindness” is an ancient form of a Buddhist tradition. The custom usually begins with the person cultivating loving kindness towards him or herself, then their loved ones, strangers, enemies, and finally towards all of life.

Radiating loving-kindness is thought to contribute to a world of love, peace and joy. I think this might start in small ways. Some examples we might consider:

If I smile... at someone at coffee hour, that is kindness. But if I stop and ask them how they’re doing, and listen to their reply, that is loving kindness.

If I pray... for our youth who’ll be going on the pilgrimage to Ireland, that is kindness. But if I support them financially, that’s loving kindness.

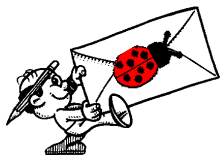

If I send... a note to someone letting them know I’m thinking of them, that is kindness. But if I call them or go to visit them, that’s loving kindness.

If I contribute... food for the hungry, that is kindness. But if I volunteer at the Open Table, or a soup kitchen, that’s loving kindness.

What other actions might you consider?

John Wesley has said “Do all the good you can by all the means you can in all the ways you can in all the places you can at all the times you can to all the people you can as long as ever you can.”

CHEERFUL CHARLIE

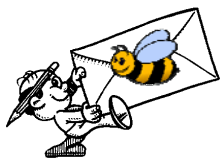

From Stephanie Mitchell

We're all such busy people; so in case we missed an "in-person" goodbye before my last day as Seminarian-in-Residence on April 25, I'm glad you are reading this brief article where I can offer another goodbye. My time watching, learning, and experiencing the wealth of ministry Trinity has to share with all who walk in its doors, while it has been too brief in my opinion, has also been immensely rewarding. From Trinity's staff, to its members, to its associates, to its adopted cat, Mischief, I have been warmly welcomed into your community. It is an opportunity for which I will be forever grateful.

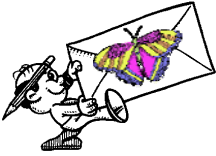

Richard and I will be leaving New England to return to Oklahoma, our home, on June 15. We will call Bartlesville, OK home for two years as I serve as a curate beginning July 1. If all goes as planned, I will be ordained to the priesthood on July 31. Richard will continue creating and teaching in OK, TX, ARK, and now Boston. While leaving New England and all it has to offer will without a doubt contain some sadness, we are both excited to return to serve the place we both call home.

Thank you to all at Trinity for sharing this part of our journey with us.

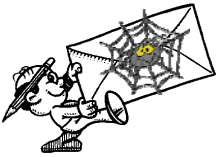

From a pleased parishioner

Those parishioners who didn't attend the 10:00 am service on March 21 missed a beautiful performance put on by Shirley Blancke's dance group. They interpreted the psalm and I think everyone was moved by the dance. Too bad it wasn't filmed.

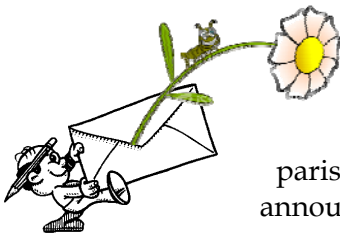

From Suzette Ciancio

Thanks to everyone who helped prepare our contribution to Monday's "Lunch at the Cathedral." All of the Trinity members who helped get ingredients for the sauce we make, who organized the cooking of the sauce for us to take to St. Paul's Cathedral on the Mondays we cook and serve do a yeoman's job. We could not make the sauce without someone to have the ingredients ready for us. Gaylord Brynolfson has done this job for many years. He has now stepped aside. Thank you Gaylord for performing this task month after month for us! Lee Daniel has been coordinating the cooking of the sauce for us to bring to the cathedral and also cooking it himself for the past few years and has also stepped aside. Thank you to Lee for transforming Gaylord's groceries into the sauce we use at the Cathedral.

From Al Ehrenfried

An expanded, 2nd edition of the book, "Trinity Church and The Place," is just off the press. It tells the unique story of Trinity Church in the 1970's, supporting Concord youth from the onset of drugs and the toll of parental alienation. The resulting program, called "The Place" housed in our church building, saved lives and won national recognition. Copies of the book are available in the Trinity office for the cover price of $25. All net proceeds go to Trinity Church.

Cheerful Charlie

announcements of interest
and good news.

MAY ART GALLERY

Common Art

Trinity Church will be hosting an exhibit of artwork created at Common Art - a program of Ecclesia Ministries and Common Cathedral. Common Art provides space, materials, pastoral care, and caring support staff to help people who are poor and homeless in Boston develop their artistic abilities. People who live in shelters, rooming houses, on unclaimed couches/benches on Boston's streets, gather every Wednesday at Emmanuel Church on Newbury Street in Boston to draw, paint, sculpt, craft, and share with others in like circumstances.

Common Art works both to promote access to the arts for its members and to help facilitate the expression of members' artistic gifts. In this way, common art acknowledges the dignity of all human beings and honors the divine creativity within each person. Through proactive advocacy, Common Art provides companionship and inclusive community, a place to come together and to share with other artists.

Over 20 artists have contributed pieces to exhibit in the hopes that others will witness and appreciate the beauty within the homeless community. The exhibit will be on display from April 27 through May 31. For more information about the gallery, contact Anne Lynch or Mary Eaton.

All art from Ecclesia Ministries is for sale and has been priced by the artist. Art may be purchased through Anne Lynch via cash or check made payable to "Ecclesia Ministries" (who will transfer payment to the individual artists). Some of the prices may seem low and a purchaser is welcome to make an additional donation to either the artist or to Ecclesia Ministries. Please make a notation as to any extra donation so we know where to direct it.

Margaret Wailes, Chair , Trinity Arts Council

Inviting All Trinity Artists!

Each summer Trinity Church artists have presented one or two pieces of art to be displayed in the Parish Hall for the months of June, July and August.

Once again this summer, the Trinity Arts Council invites ALL ARTISTS from age 5 to 95 to submit one or two paintings, drawings, photographs, pottery, jewelry, fabric art, needle point, embroidery, crewel, knitting, crocheting, quilts, etc. Two dimensional art will be hung on the walls, as will some fabric art. Pottery and jewelry will be displayed in a locked presentation case.

The final display and choice of objects will be determined by the Council. Having two dimensional framed work adds to the preservation of the art and gives a more unified presentation. If the art is worth showing, it is probably worth framing. However, appropriately matted work will also be accepted. Exhibit forms are available in the church office for you to fill out and each piece of submitted art must have an exhibit form attached.

Exhibiting artists are asked to leave the displayed work up through Monday, August 30. If you cannot take your piece(s) down on August 30, a member of the Arts Council will store "left" art in the archives room. The September show will be hung on Tuesday, August 31.

Please submit your art to Anne Lynch in the church office on or before May 31. All art will be held in the locked archives room until June 1, when members of the Arts Council will hang the pieces that have been submitted. The Council will attempt to display at least one piece from each participant. If there is room, a second piece may be exhibited. Every effort is made to protect each piece of art; however, all entries are submitted at the risk of the artist.

TRINITY TIDBITS

Healing Prayer Service Sunday, May 9 at 7 pm

Trinity holds a healing prayer service on the second Sunday of every month at 7 pm in Trinity's Chapel. Meditative music, intercessory prayer and individual laying on of hands with prayers for healing is offered.

Welcoming New Members Sunday, May 16 at 8 and 10 am

Now that you have decided that Trinity Episcopal Church is your church home, we invite you to step forward at the Peace on May 16 at both services to be blessed by the clergy and welcomed by the parish into our community of faith. Please let us know you want to be recognized by telling a clergy person, calling the church office at 978-369-3715, or telling someone at the Welcome Table. You will be introduced by name and your name will appear in the bulletin that Sunday. Be sure to tell us which service you are going to attend if there are children, so we can be sure they are brought from the church school. Also let us know if you need a name tag.

Last Forum on June 6: On the Ground in Haiti: Episcopal Church Young Adult Service Corps

Mr. Jude Harmon, currently a postulant for ordination in the Diocese of Massachusetts, had been in Haiti for four months when the earthquake of January 12, 2010 hit. He has a moving story to tell.

The New Job Security Workshop

If you missed this workshop series in January, we will be offering it again on four Tuesday evenings (June 1, 8, 15, 21). Our facilitator will be Bill Neill, husband of parishioner Barbara Morse. Bill successfully navigated the transition from a career in the U.S. Navy to working for Cisco Systems as a Global Business Development Manager. Bill will lead a series of four highly interactive and practical sessions, which will include, for a nominal fee, a simple meal and a copy of one of the books that Bill will review as part of the course. Please contact Nick if you or someone you know is interested.

Note Cards and Books For Sale at Trinity

Packages of note cards of the watercolor painting of the chapel by Ben Strohecker are available in the church office. The price is $10 for a package of eight, and $5 for a package of four. Also for sale for $15 is the book, "The Cup of Our Life" by Joyce Rupp, which is the book used by our Lenten study this year.

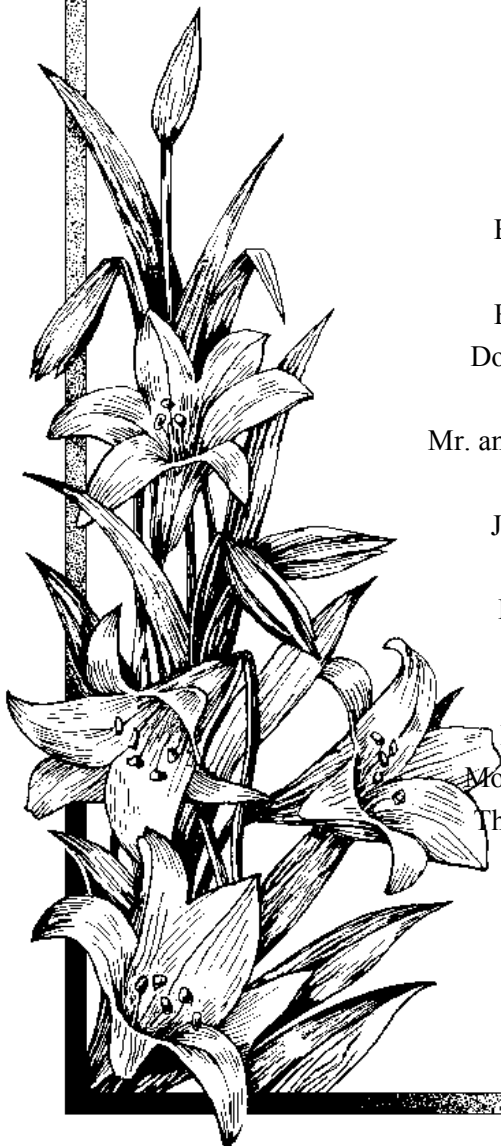

Mission Needs

Solutions at Work needs socks, shoes, sneakers, ties, belts, toothbrushes, toothpaste, combs, small shampoo, etc. Open Table needs canned fruits and vegetables, cereal, and any non-perishable item. For more info, contact Barbara or Arthur Walker, 978-369-3051.

Cookbook Kitchen Tour

The Cookbook Committee is planning a kitchen tour fundraiser in the fall. Do you have a spectacular kitchen or know someone who does? Would you or they like to offer a tour of their kitchen in the Concord area? Please let us know by calling Carroll Sandel or Sandy Folk.

Altar Flowers

The Altar Guild Flower Committee is truly grateful to friends and parishioners of Trinity who give to the fund. The altar flowers are selected each week by a member of the Flower Committee and they arrange them for the service.

We invite you to contribute by choosing a Sunday that has special meaning to you. Often, more than one person finds a certain date important; so flowers may be given in more than one name on any given Sunday. Flowers may celebrate a variety of moments: "In Memory" of a loved one, "To Celebrate" a marriage or anniversary, as "A Thanksgiving" for a birth, baptism or other special event, or "To Honor" some person(s). Our goal is to list in the bulletin each week that the flowers are celebrating an event in the lives of families in the parish. We suggest a contribution of $25.00 to help with the weekly cost of flowers. We thank you!
